

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

We invite applications for two full-time, tenure-track librarian positions with the University Library. These positions include a research component and are in scope of the University of Saskatchewan Faculty Association. We are seeking dynamic, innovative, and flexible individuals to provide liaison services to colleges and departments in the natural and applied sciences, work collaboratively throughout the library, and contribute to library-wide projects and priorities. One position will provide comprehensive liaison services to the College of Agriculture and Bioresources and the Western College of Veterinary Medicine. The other position will provide comprehensive liaison services to the departments of Biology, Chemistry, and Geological Sciences in the College of Arts and Science.

The successful candidates will be responsible for:

- Providing high-quality liaison services that support faculty teaching and research, and student learning and success, including:
 - o Designing and delivering information literacy instruction, both in-person and online
 - o Working independently and collaboratively to develop high-quality collections of digital and print resources in assigned disciplinary areas
 - o Providing information services, including research consultations, to students, faculty, and researchers
- Building collaborative relationships with stakeholder groups to advance learning and research
- Engaging in research and scholarly activity leading to the development of a formal program of research and contributing to the scholarly conversation via peer-reviewed publications and other outlets

Each librarian at the University Library also contributes to the advancement of the Library Strategic Framework by working as a member of one of the library's four divisions (Learning and Curriculum Support Division, Research Support Services Division, Collections and Discovery Division, University Archives and Special Collections Division). The assignment to a division is made based on a combination of the candidate's experience and interest and the needs of the library.

Research and scholarly work is a requirement for tenure-track librarians as defined in the University Library Standards for Promotion and Tenure. Examples of librarians' scholarly work can be found in HARVEST. Librarians are expected to participate in collegial committee work and are encouraged to engage with academic or professional organizations.

About the University Library

As one of Canada's leading research libraries, the University Library serves as the intellectual hub of the University of Saskatchewan, providing resources, services, and spaces that facilitate inquiry, discovery, and knowledge creation. Our Strategic Framework focuses on building scholars and decolonizing the library. The University Library is committed to developing welcoming, responsive, and accessible services and resources to support our diverse clientele, with a strategic focus on Indigenous peoples.

The University Library has a robust digital library and is physically distributed across six locations on campus to support the learning, teaching, and research communities. For more information, visit the University Library website.

About the University of Saskatchewan

The University of Saskatchewan is one of Canada's top 15 research-intensive universities, and is home to world-leading research in areas of global importance, such as water and food security and infectious diseases. Guided by our University Plan: The University the World Needs, we work together across disciplines and with our communities to find creative solutions to the most pressing global challenges. USask has a reputation for excellence in teaching, research, and scholarly activities and offers a full range of undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs to a student population of over 25,000.

About Saskatoon

The main campus is situated in Saskatoon along the banks of the South Saskatchewan River, on Treaty 6 Territory and the Homeland of the Metis. Saskatoon is a vibrant, livable city known for its natural beauty, friendly community, and diverse cultural and leisure offerings. Although the largest urban centre in the province, with a population of over 300,000, Saskatoon residents enjoy short commute times and some of the lowest apartment rental and housing prices in the country.

Qualifications

An ALA-accredited Master of Library and Information Science degree or international equivalent is required for this appointment. A degree in a science-related discipline or prior relevant library experience is desired.

We are seeking candidates who demonstrate:

- Ability to develop and sustain effective and collaborative professional working relationships and partnerships
- Effective teaching in both group and individual settings
- Ability to provide high-quality service
- Willingness to take initiative and be a self-starter
- Flexibility, engagement, and creativity/innovation
- Awareness of current and emerging trends in librarianship

The University Library values a diverse employee complement in the broadest sense and welcomes applications from all qualified candidates. Indigenous peoples, visible minorities, persons with disabilities, and LGBTQ2S+ persons are encouraged to apply.

Current salary bands for this position are as follows:

- Assistant Librarian: $83,150 to $99,945
- Associate Librarian: $99,945 to $120,099

It is anticipated that this position will be filled at the assistant or associate rank.

This position includes a comprehensive benefits package which includes a dental, health and extended vision care plan; pension plan, life insurance (compulsory and voluntary), academic long term disability, sick leave, travel insurance, death benefits, an employee assistance program, a professional expense allowance, and a flexible health and wellness spending program.

Other

The University is committed to employment equity, diversity, and inclusion, and are proud to support career opportunities for Indigenous peoples to reflect the community we serve. We are dedicated to recruiting individuals who will enrich our work and learning environments. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. We are committed to providing accommodations to those with a disability or medical necessity. If you require an accommodation to participate in the recruitment process, please notify us and we will work together on the accommodation request. We continue to grow our partnerships with Indigenous communities across the province, nationally, and internationally and value the unique perspective that Indigenous employees provide to strengthening these relationships. Verification of Indigenous Membership/Citizenship at the University of Saskatchewan is led and determined by the deywewin | taapwaywin | tapwewin: Indigenous Truth policy and Standing Committee in accordance with the processes developed to enact the policy. Successful candidates that assert Indigenous membership/citizenship will be asked to complete the verification process of Indigenous membership/citizenship with documentation. The University of Saskatchewan's main campus is situated on Treaty 6 Territory and the Homeland of the Metis. We pay our respects to the First Nations and Metis ancestors of this place and reaffirm our relationship with one another. Together, we are uplifting Indigenous to a place of prominence at the University of Saskatchewan.
