

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

Chief Executive Officer

First Nations Health Authority

Location: West Vancouver, BC

The First Nations Health Authority (FNHA) is the first and only province-wide health authority of its kind in Canada. Established in 2009, the FNHA began a new era in BC First Nations health governance and health care delivery by taking responsibility for the programs and services formerly delivered by Health Canada in 2013. Today, the FNHA is the health and wellness partner to over 200 diverse First Nations communities and their members across British Columbia. Dedicated to transforming health services for First Nations communities in BC, the FNHA is improving the health of communities by advancing the quality of health care delivered to First Nations people in BC.

The successful candidate for CEO of the FNHA will bring a track record of successful senior leadership experience, preferably in a similar sized organization supporting a complex public sector organization or with a First Nations organization. Through this experience they would've gained expertise in non-profit management and knowledge of healthcare developments, transformation, and First Nations perspectives on cultural safe care. Ideally this candidate will be visionary and passionate about First Nations health and wellbeing, as well as a strategic leader and an exceptional communicator who can establish trust and credibility both externally and internally. Knowledge of healthcare issues and health service delivery is an asset, especially public health and First Nations health and wellbeing practices.

The enabling of an organizational culture built on transparency, trust, gratitude, and consultation is key to the role. As such, the CEO must be a respected representative of the First Nations Health Authority and inspire deep engagement with the community while enhancing the reputation of the organization. The salary range for this role will be between $280,000 to $350,000.

The First Nations Health Authority is committed to respecting diversity within our workforce; preference will be given to First Nations people.
