

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

The University of Ottawa and its Faculty of Education invites applications for a Tier 2 Canada Research Chair (CRC) position from outstanding Indigenous - First Nations, Inuit, and Metis - scholars with strong profiles in Educational Research. We encourage applications from qualified candidates who can contribute to the educational research that intersects with areas such as, but not limited to: policy studies, health profession education, counselling psychology, social studies, self-determination, human rights, territoriality and (re)mapping, child services, food sovereignty, histories, citizenship, curriculum studies, cultural studies, Indigenous futurities, treaty education, land-based pedagogies, community-led, oral history, arts-based research methodologies, etc., spirituality, languages, educational governance, ethical relationality, feminist, two-spirited, queer and/or transgender studies, disability studies, Teacher Education, pedagogy, science, technology, engineering, arts, and mathematics (STEAM), Indigenous excellence and/or related fields.

The Faculty of Education is located on the unceded ancestral territories of the Algonquin people in the heart of the nation's capital. With more than sixty professors, we offer an exceptional intellectual environment to students, educational researchers, and professors. This recruitment also reflects the Faculty of Education's 2025 strategic plan, which focuses on innovation; educational technologies; a vibrant Francophonie; Indigenous rights; antiracism, equity and social justice. We invite First Nations, Inuit, and Metis candidates who are committed to strengthening the Faculty of Education's existing interdisciplinary relations with other faculties (e.g., Social Sciences, Arts, Science, Medicine, Health Science), with the Institute of Indigenous Research and Studies, school boards, and community organizations who seek to enhance the research and educational opportunities specifically for Indigenous communities, their families, Elders, Knowledge Keepers, youth, and children here in Canada and the world.

Tier 2 Chairs, tenable for five years and renewable once, are for exceptional emerging researchers, acknowledged by their peers as having the potential to lead in their field. For each Tier 2 Chair, the institution receives $100,000 annually for five years, with an additional $20,000 annual research stipend for first-term Tier 2 Chairs.

Candidates should, at a minimum, be assistant or associate professors, or possess the necessary qualifications to be appointed to these levels. Candidates who are more than 10 years from their highest degree must contact the University of Ottawa directly for questions related to their potential eligibility for a Tier 2 Chair. The institution may nominate a professor or a researcher who is more than 10 years from their highest degree at the time of nomination and has experienced legitimate career interruptions (see acceptable justifications). In such cases, the institution must submit to the Secretariat a formal justification (using the Tier 2 Justification Screening Form), explaining why the nominee is still considered to be an emerging scholar. The University recognizes the legitimate impact that leaves (e.g., parental leave, leave due to illness) can have on a candidate's record of research achievement and that these leaves will be taken into careful consideration during the assessment process. New CRC nominees are also eligible for infrastructure support from the Canada Foundation for Innovation (CFI) to help acquire state-of-the-art equipment essential to their work.

Selective hiring

The University of Ottawa is committed to ensuring equity, diversity, and inclusion in the scholarly and leadership environments of our students, staff, and faculty members. The hiring for this position will be done in accordance with the University's Indigenous Action Plan, which seeks to remedy the under-representation of Indigenous faculty members. In accordance with the University's Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion Action Plan, the selection will be limited to Indigenous peoples (Indigenous individuals from Turtle Island (encompassing Canada and the United States of America) and their descendants: i.e., First Nations, Inuit and Metis Peoples) as defined in the CRC Program method for establishing equity targets and the Employment Equity Act. Candidates who wish to be considered for this position must complete the confidential self-identification form during the application process online (fill the Employment Equity Questionnaire on the web portal). The objective of this measure is to increase the representation of the four designated groups in the allocation of Canada Research Chair positions. Internal candidates are not eligible.

Skills requirements:

- Education: Ph.D. in Education or equivalent in a field related to the position.

- Work Experience and required qualifications:

o A demonstrated excellent track record of research in educational research in collaboration with Indigenous communities in Canada;

o A demonstrated ability to teach at the undergraduate and/or graduate levels in a context of interdisciplinary collaboration;

o Ability to teach hybrid and on-line courses;

o Excellent communication skills in English. Passive knowledge of the other official language in Canada (French) is a requirement for tenure. Proficiency in an Indigenous language is considered an asset for this position as well as English-French bilingualism;

o Preference will be given to applicants who demonstrate research excellence in the CRC's identified area(s); have the potential to achieve international recognition in their field; a solid record in supervision and potential to attract, develop and retain excellent trainees, students and future researchers; the ability to obtain external research funds from multiple sources of funding; teaching praxes reflect an existing and ongoing relationship to legally recognized and inherent Indigenous nations, communities and/or organizations (non-profit, health and wellness, educational sectors, etc.), or artistic and heritage organizations (museums, galleries, theatre, etc.).

Rank and salary: Regular tenure-track academic appointment at the Faculty of Education. Salary scale for an Assistant Professor starts at 94,588$ (as of May 1, 2023). Salaries are competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Benefits package: The University of Ottawa provides a complete benefits package which include long-term disability, basic group life insurance, supplementary health insurance, University of Ottawa pension Plan and optional life insurance, as well as relocation expenses.

Location of work: University of Ottawa, Faculty of Education, Ottawa, ON K1N 6N5

Application package:

- A cover letter describing the candidate's interest in this position;

- An up-to-date curriculum vitae (Please include any personal circumstances and/or career interruptions such as parental or sick leaves that may have impacted your research trajectory. These will be taken into consideration in the selection process);

- A research plan (2 to 3 pages);

- A statement of teaching interests (1 to 2 pages);

- A statement on equity, diversity, and inclusion philosophy and concrete practices (1 page);

- A letter of recommendation from a traditional knowledge keeper or community leader/member with whom the candidate has worked attesting the candidate's experience of teaching and researching Indigenous education in partnership with the community.

- The names of three people whom may be contacted by the University for letters of reference which will follow the Canada Research Chairs guidelines (i.e. at least one arm's length and two who are not affiliated to the University of Ottawa unless they are the candidate's PhD or postdoctoral supervisor); and

- Self-identification: Complete the confidential Employment equity questionnaire on the web portal during the application process. The Canada Research Chairs Program requires institutions to collect self-identification data from all applicants, following the program's best practices.

Application deadline: July 23, 2024

Applications should be submitted electronically through the University of Ottawa Careers portal:
