

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

The Partnerships and Workforce Planning Branch has a twelve (12) month term opportunity for a Senior Policy Analyst. We are seeking a highly motivated, results-oriented individual to provide research, analysis, and recommendations on key policy issues related to First Nations and Metis health.

Reporting to the Director, Intergovernmental and Indigenous Relations, you will have responsibility to:

Prepare clear, concise and timely written materials (briefing notes, speaking notes, reports and issues papers) related to First Nations and Metis health;

Work with First Nations and Metis organizations, the Saskatchewan Health Authority and the federal government on health issues that related to First Nations and Metis citizens;

Collect and analyze relevant data, trends and issues to make accurate and timely decisions and recommendations on a variety of policies and programs;

Clearly and accurately explain complex legislation, policies, programs and processes to others, both verbally and in writing; and

Collaborate with co-workers, agencies, and others to consistently meet program and client needs in a manner appropriate for the audience.

The successful candidate will have:

Knowledge of, and respect for, First Nations and Metis cultures, traditions, and values;

Knowledge of First Nations and Metis health issues and challenges;

Knowledge of and experience with legislation and regulations, programs, policies, and guidelines as they relate to the health system;

Demonstrated experience developing and building collaborative working relationships with various stakeholders; and

Strong interpersonal, communication, and facilitation skills.

Typically, the knowledge and skills required for this position would be obtained through:

A Bachelor's degree in a social science, health administration, or a related discipline along with experience in public policy development.

The Ministry of Health is committed to a health system that puts patients first by providing Better Health, Better Care, Better Value, and Better Teams for Saskatchewan people.

What we offer:

Dynamic, challenging work, and a supportive working environment;

A competitive salary;

Comprehensive benefits package including pension;

Vacation, Earned Days Off (EDO), and other types of leave;

Inclusive work environments;

Advancement opportunities; and

Flexible work arrangements.
