

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

As an organization proud to have joined the BlackNorth Initiatives CEO pledge, we are energized by the opportunity to make further inroads with the Black community, the Indigenous community, and communities of colour broadly. The Associate, Development Writer will create and enhance communications tools to support fundraising initiatives and will seek out opportunities to elevate diverse voices. The Associate will ensure that the tools we use to motivate donors enable greater donor participation from diverse communities. As an integral member of the Brand Strategy and Communications team, they will work closely with our fundraising teams, other members of the Brand Strategy and Communications team, and key hospital contacts to further develop these tools in both print and digital formats and will provide expert writing advice, guidance, and service.

THE SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATE WILL:

- Help us identify opportunities to elevate diverse voices, represent a wide range of lived experiences, and audit our communications on a bi- annual basis to ensure we are a consistent driver of change toward greater diversity, equity, and inclusion;
- Serve as the in- house subject matter expert on a range of fundraising initiatives, organizational priorities, and hospital areas, including the Centre for Global Child Health, SickKids International, the BlackNorth Initiative, Sickle Cell Disease, and Social Determinants of Health Research among others;
- Compose and edit proposals, marketing briefs, impact reports and publications for specific donors and groups of donors in collaboration with fundraisers across all programs, including Major Gifts, Corporate and Community Partnerships, Digital and Direct Marketing, Special Events and Gift & Estate Planning;
- Directly liaise with appropriate hospital staff to obtain information on hospital fundraising priorities and data/ information to support development of cases for support and impact reports;
- Write and edit thank you letters and other donor relations communications;
- Help maintain an online archive of past proposals, impact reports, marketing briefs and other donor communications;
- Develop and implement proposal and other communications templates;
- Create, write, and edit content for e- newsletters, the Foundation website, and other digital channels;
- Provide assistance to fundraising teams regarding best approaches for timing, language, and format of communications to ensure we are inclusive and speaking to the communities we serve

Experience

We value a unique perspective and encourage those who may have some of the following qualifications (but not all) and a proven desire to learn new skills to apply:

- Superior writing skills and the ability to convey a compelling story, especially as it relates to healthcare and medical research;
- Excellent donor and stakeholder relations skills, with a strong sense of diplomacy;
- Advanced organizational skills, balancing day- to- day activities with competing demands and priorities;
- Understanding of or the capacity to build best practice in proposal, stewardship, and case for support development;
- Demonstrated facility with or exposure to Adobe suite, including InDesign, Photoshop, Spark, and Illustrator;
- Experience with or a strong appreciation for web- based communications;

• Formal training or practical experience in project management; and
• Expertise in MS Office suite.

Education Requirements

• A bachelors degree (preferably in English, Journalism, History, Cultural Studies or related to a Communications discipline);
• Lived experience enabling the incumbent to credibly represent the voice of the diverse communities that we serve, and the ability to adapt communications to a wide range of audiences;
• Experience speaking authentically to and with diverse communities;
• Previous experience in a position focused on communications or technical, digital or advancement writing

Essential Skills

We're looking for a passionate individual who is interested in moving the dial and making a difference. We are an environment that looks to attract hardworking and committed people, people who are looking to challenge themselves and grow with a globally recognized brand that continues to change the world. If this describes you, consider joining our team. We look forward to reviewing your application.

Additional Skills

Thanks to our donors, in the fiscal year that ended March 31, 2021, SickKids Foundation raised over $170 million for child health, research, learning, and care. We're winning, because every day we continue to fight, and we're committed to attracting to our team other passionate individuals who will contribute to our goal of making every kid a healthy kid. It is within this context that SickKids Foundation welcomes applications for the role of Associate, Development Writer (Diverse Communities).

SickKids Foundation is committed to its people – the talents, capabilities, and perspectives they bring to our mission. We live that commitment by being open and accessible to all, by valuing and respecting every individual and by equally supporting every employee. In our search for extraordinary talent, we uphold our commitment by inviting and encouraging individuals from diverse lived experiences, including those who are Black, Indigenous, and from communities of colour, as well as people with disabilities, LGBTQ2IA+ and all candidates who may contribute to the further diversification of the Foundation's community.
