

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

Location: 160 Bloor Street East, Toronto, ON

Duration: Permanent

Classification: XEXE3

Division: Indigenous Relations and Ministry Partnerships

Do you want to make positive contributions on topics impacting Indigenous communities and further Ontario's goal to improve socio-economic conditions for Indigenous peoples? Are you highly skilled at building and maintaining strategic and collaborative partnerships with a diverse and broad set of people including but not limited to, Indigenous communities? The Ministry of Indigenous Affairs needs an influential leader to champion innovative and responsive strategies for emerging issues to build stronger relationships with Indigenous peoples and communities.

The Assistant Deputy Minister, Indigenous Relations and Programs provides executive leadership and strategic direction to the division and the ministry with a view to building strong, sustainable relationships with Indigenous communities and actors. These relationships enable the ministry to understand the needs of their partners to provide best advice and support the creation and delivery of whole-of-government approaches to improve outcomes for Indigenous peoples and communities in Ontario.

What can I expect to do in this role

In this visionary high-profile role, you will:

• Lead and direct the design and institution of a one window client service model and corporate resource for all Government of Ontario ministries, which includes expertise, advice and support on best practices in consultation and relationships; frameworks, strategies and techniques to support capacity in line ministries with respect to Indigenous affairs, at various levels within the Ontario government, other provincial governments, the federal government, including executive and senior management.

• Lead the development of effective partnerships and relationships with Indigenous people in Ontario, including clear and accessible strategies for consultation, collaboration, sustaining momentum and commitment.

• Direct and guide the building and leveraging of OPS-wide knowledge to support a consistent, coordinated strategic approach to Indigenous policy and program development by ministries, and integration of Indigenous matters and services into existing programs and their delivery.

• Oversee and ensure the provision of expertise and advice on connection, engagement and consultation with Indigenous leaders and communities on matters of interest to Ontario's Indigenous peoples as well as matters of interest to all Ontario.
