

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

About Toronto Metropolitan

At the intersection of mind and action, Toronto Metropolitan University is on a transformative path to become Canada's leading comprehensive innovation university. Integral to this path is the placement of equity, diversity and inclusion as fundamental to our institutional culture. Our current academic plan outlines each as core values and we work to embed them in all that we do. We welcome those who have demonstrated a commitment to upholding the values of equity, diversity, and inclusion and will assist us to expand our capacity for diversity in the broadest sense. In addition, to correct the conditions of disadvantage in employment in Canada, we encourage applications from members of groups that have been historically disadvantaged and marginalized, including First Nations, Metis and Inuit peoples, Indigenous peoples of North America, racialized persons, persons with disabilities, and those who identify as women and/or 2SLGBTQ+. Please note that all qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, applications from Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. In April 2022, the university announced our new name of Toronto Metropolitan University, which will be implemented in a phased approach. Learn more about our next chapter..

Spanning the Gaps For over fifteen years, Toronto Metropolitan University's Spanning the Gaps program — offered through the G. Raymond Chang School of Continuing Education — has provided mentoring, courses, tutoring and career guidance to help adult learners from different educational backgrounds transition to post-secondary programs. Our students come from diverse backgrounds and face multiple barriers including but not limited to financial challenges, precarious housing and mental health. We also provide specific programming through our partnerships for BIPOC and Veteran students. More than 1,580 adults have accessed post-secondary education, thanks to our program. Spanning the Gaps is based on the belief that education can break cycles of intergenerational poverty and social exclusion, and that higher education transforms lives and contributes to social cohesion, social stability, and a civic society. We are committed to playing a role in the Greater Toronto Area community in terms of expanding educational opportunities and building educational capacity. Our goal is to increase the post-secondary participation of young people and adults who might not otherwise interact with or experience post-secondary education. To this end, we have created a program we call Spanning the Gaps — Access to Post-Secondary Education. We work in partnership with schools, school boards, and community agencies.
