

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Link's Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

Postdoctoral Fellowship in Addictions Research, Peter Boris Centre for Addictions Research, McMaster University/St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton The Peter Boris Centre for Addictions Research (PBCAR) at McMaster University/St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton (SJHH) is inviting applicants for postdoctoral fellowships in addiction research. The fellowships to gain expertise in addiction research that seeks to leverage advances in behavioural science, cognitive neuroscience, and behavioural genetics to understand the etiology and treatment of addiction. Fellows will work closely with a primary mentor and co-mentors from the Centre's faculty to gain new skills, develop their personal research programs, and contribute to existing projects. The PBCAR is a partnership between McMaster's Department of Psychiatry and Behavioural Neurosciences and St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton. The Centre is directed by Dr. James MacKillop and has more than 20 faculty affiliates with diverse research interests. Currently, the PBCAR is executing projects funded by the Canadian Institutes of Health Research, Health Canada, the Canadian Centre on Substance Use and Addiction, and the National Institutes of Health, among others. Conditions of interest include substance use disorders (particularly alcohol, cannabis, and tobacco), gambling disorder, and obesity/food addiction. The PBCAR has a number of collaborative clinical projects and has partnered with several clinical services at SJHH (Concurrent Disorders Program, Eating Disorders Program, Forensic Psychiatry Program) and at Homewood Health Centre. Opportunities to contribute to clinical research collaborations will be available. Eligible applicants will have completed a PhD or MD (or equivalent) degree, with training in psychology, psychiatry, behaviour analysis, cognitive neuroscience, behavioural genetics, or related fields. Successful candidates will be intellectually curious, highly motivated individuals who work well in teams and are driven to develop a personal research program. The fellowship will be for up to two years. To apply, applicants should submit a current CV and letter of interest to Ms. Jane de Jesus (dejesuj@mcmaster.ca). Within the letter, applicants should describe their rationale for applying and should identify potential mentors. The PBCAR is located at St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton, with a satellite location on campus at McMaster, both in Hamilton, Ontario. Hamilton is a major hub in the 'Greater Toronto Hamilton Area' and is known for high quality of life and low cost of living. Hamilton has a vigorous economy, a vibrant arts community, outstanding restaurants, affordable housing, and hundreds of acres of conservation lands and national gardens. It is also part of the GO Train system for commuting from nearby municipalities, including Toronto. Virtual options are available in light of COVID-19.
