

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Link's Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

CityNews is seeking Indigenous journalists* to join an all-Indigenous news team spanning the country. Be part of an Indigenous-led team charting its own path and building something great!

Working in our television newsrooms, you will bring an Indigenous lens to reporting on all local issues and topics, as well as focusing on storytelling related to Indigenous communities and peoples.

Up for the challenge? If so, consider the following opportunity...

*To be part of this team, you must be a member of one or more of the following three groups of Indigenous peoples: First Nations (status and non-status), Metis or Inuit.

Indigenous Journalist - CityNews

What you will do/Your purpose...

Generate story ideas and produce television news content for our newscasts and all-news streaming channels.

Establish and/or maintain relationships with Indigenous communities and their peoples to find and tell stories that are important to those communities.

Respond to local breaking news of all kinds, quickly and accurately.

Work with local producers and editors, as well as other team members, to help produce episodes of the new CityNews prime time news specials.

What you will bring...

A passion for news and visual storytelling - understanding what makes a great story and knowing how to tell it.

A keen interest in local news of all kinds, including spot news and breaking news.

Strong experience in reporting on Indigenous issues and communities.

A self-starter, willing to lead with curiosity and initiative.

Ability to multi-task and deliver for multiple, daily online and broadcast deadlines.

Willingness to work evenings and weekends (as required).

Valid driver's licence and clean driving record required.

Here's what you can expect in return...

A competitive salary and benefits which include access to our Employee Share Accumulation Program, Retirement Benefits, and a variety of other perks, including 50% off Rogers services and Blue Jays tickets.

A company that is committed to the collective journey towards truth and reconciliation in meaningful ways, in partnership with Indigenous Peoples.

Rogers Sports & Media has multi-platform potential to support the reclamation of language, history, and culture in support of individuality and authenticity. We are committed to partnership with Indigenous communities and our Indigenous team members on the collective journey of truth and reconciliation. Our news content will provide coverage of and information on issues of concern to Indigenous People and all Canadians including the history and legacy of residential schools and the reconciliation process. Our sport platforms will continue to highlight achievements and stories of Indigenous athletes. Our business platforms will continue to give Indigenous business owners greater opportunity. Learn more about our journey here.

Additional supports for our Indigenous employees include, but are not limited to:

Access to a formal Employee Family Assistance Plan

Tax exemptions for First Nations living or working on reserve

Traditional Indigenous Practice Leave

A company that is part of the Progressive Aboriginal Relations certification program via Canadian Council for Aboriginal Business

An executive leadership team that humbly supports a corporate journey toward truth & reconciliation

An Indigenous Peoples Network - an internal support network for Indigenous employees and Indigenous cultural preservation

Gord Downie-Chanie Wenjack Legacy Space Program
