

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

For a full listing of the Supportive Housing Policy Analyst's key responsibilities and preferred knowledge, skills, and abilities, please see the full job posting on our website at www.ahma-bc.org. Located on the Skwxw̓mesh (Squamish) Nation Territory in West Vancouver, BC, the Aboriginal Housing Management Association (AHMA) exists to make a difference in urban, rural and Northern housing. We oversee the administration of operating agreements between housing providers and Aboriginal housing organizations, keeping everyone's best interest in mind and developing and maintaining relationships of trust. Every employee on our team is integral to ensuring our success and the success of the Housing Providers we serve.

AHMA provides leadership, technical and program support services to our housing partners. Key to the success of our member groups is their ability to govern effectively, build capacity and undertake operations in a manner that promotes and sustains safe, secure, affordable housing and related services in healthy communities.

The Supportive Housing Policy Analyst (SHPA) supports AHMA housing providers in the coordination and implementation of supportive housing programs and services through a harm reduction lens in efforts to address mental health needs and reduce homelessness and poverty in Indigenous communities. The SHPA works with Housing Providers through the integration of community harm reduction education and program initiatives that link to resources in order to overcome systemic challenges and promote responsiveness within the system to community needs. Accountability includes the development, planning, coordination and support, and evaluation of harm reduction programs and those that address homelessness, poverty and mental health.

Experience

Three (3) years related experience working with marginalized populations and community resources including program evaluation with a focus on facilitating integrated approaches to community health and well-being for vulnerable populations. • Experience as a policy analyst.

Experience working within an Indigenous community.

Strong understanding of Indigenous health, social, cultural and justice systems and issues.
