

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Link's Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

Academic Cardiologist Department of Medicine, McMaster University The Department of Medicine, Faculty of Health Sciences at McMaster University and Hamilton Health Sciences invite applications for an Academic Cardiologist. This is a full-time faculty position for a period of three years (renewable). Academic rank will be commensurate with the candidate's qualifications and experience. Clinical activities for this position will occur primarily at the Hamilton General Hospital and will be focused mainly on the outpatient cardiology clinic. Responsibilities will also include the delivery of inpatient care at the General site, but also occasionally at the Juravinski site. Access to echocardiography will be limited to those patients seen by the applicant in the comprehensive cardiology clinic and will be available only to those with level II or greater echo training. The successful candidate will be a full-time member of the Division of Cardiology and will be expected to contribute to the academic mission of the Faculty and Division. This role will have the possibility for administrative leadership and the applicant would be considered for a leadership role in the comprehensive cardiology clinic. They will also be expected to contribute at least 30% of their time to teaching. This will entail teaching in the outpatient clinic, including supervision of longitudinal clinics for cardiology residents. It will also include participation in the cardiology inpatient teaching unit at the Hamilton General Hospital. The applicant will also play a regular role in Problem-Based Learning education for undergraduate students and participate regularly in the cardiology bootcamp and there will be a pathway to a leadership role for this activity. The successful candidate should have a proven track record in undergraduate and/or post graduate education and will be expected to fully participate in all appropriate departmental and divisional educational activities. Applicants should be certified (or eligible for certification) by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada and must be licensed (or eligible for licensure) in the Province of Ontario.
