

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

LOCATION: Fort McMurray, Alberta (CA-AB)

JOB NUMBER: 27195

Why you should join us: If you have communications experience and/or education and are looking for a new opportunity, we'd love to hear from you! In this engaging new opportunity, as part of an upbeat team, you will contribute by building and implementing communications strategies that support our oil sands operations in the Wood Buffalo region. You will use your expertise to:

- Bring about positive change and promote inclusion by supporting various employee programs and initiatives
- Collaborate with leaders to provide strategic counsel and communications support while building positive relationships
- Provide advice to our functional groups
- Collaborate with highly motivated members of the Upstream communications team to ensure alignment in approaches, messaging, and the use of tools and processes across our entire business
- Work with Change Management specialists to ensure large initiatives with change impacts are appropriately communicated, both internally and externally
- Understand, engage, and show integrity as an ambassador for the services model, our brand, and communications processes on behalf of the chief sustainability office, where the communications function resides
- Build a deep understanding of the oil sands business to provide business leaders and communications partners with critical communications advice on key issues and risks and help navigate reputational challenges
- Provide dedicated support to the business in real-time during emergencies or critical events as a member of the on-call rotation
- Contribute to and provide support for the communications tools and vehicles the team uses to reach a variety of audiences

We'd like to review your application if you have:

- Must-haves (minimum requirements):
- Three years of experience in communications, preferably within a corporate communications or business partner setting, or a combination of post-secondary education and six years of relevant experience
- A University degree or related post-secondary diploma/certificate in communications, public relations, business, or an associated field
- Exceptional communications skills, including planning, research, writing (print and web), editing and measurement
- Strong, confirmed interpersonal, conflict management and analytical skills
- Proficiency with the Microsoft Office suite with a strong working knowledge of Outlook, Word, and PowerPoint
- A valid driver's licence and a clean driving record
- Alignment with our values of: safety above all else, respect, raise the bar, commitments matter and do the right thing
- The ability to identify continuous improvement opportunities
- An ability to manage client expectations and develop great partnerships, while managing priorities

Preference for:

- Experience in the oil and gas industry or other natural resource industry
- A background or familiarity with both change and reputation management
- Experience as a communication consultant to internal or external client groups with experience helping clients handle communication issues and reputational challenges

- A demonstrated ability to carry unstructured projects to completion within a changing environment, and build strong, positive relationships with different types of people and diverse groups at many organizational levels

Where you'll be working, your work schedule, and other meaningful information:

- You will work out of our Base Plant Mine in Fort McMurray, Alberta
- Hours of work are a regular 40-hour work week, Monday to Friday, with the potential for extended work hours based on business needs
- If you reside outside of Fort McMurray, relocation of your primary residence to within 60 km of Fort McMurray is mandatory. Relocation support will be provided; we offer highly competitive housing assistance to eligible candidates
- Compensation will be commensurate with experience
