

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

ACADEMIC BENIGN HEMATOLOGIST

Department of Medicine, McMaster University

The Department of Medicine, Faculty of Health Sciences at McMaster University and Hamilton Health Sciences invite applications for an Academic Physician with expertise in Benign Hematology. Preference will be given to candidates who have completed fellowship training in a Transfusion Medicine Area of Focused Competence (AFC) Training Program. This is a full-time faculty position. Academic rank will be commensurate with the candidate's qualifications and experience. The ideal candidate will have an interest in immunohematology and apheresis, and comfort with general consultative hematology (both inpatient and outpatient). A graduate degree in Health Professions/Health Science Education, Quality Improvement, Health Research Methodology, or related scholarly areas is an asset. The successful candidate will be a full-time member of the Division of Hematology & Thromboembolism and will be expected to contribute to the academic mission of the Faculty and Division. It is expected that activity related to clinical and laboratory hematology will comprise at least half of their time. Applicants should be certified (or eligible for certification) by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada and must be licensed in the Province of Ontario. The successful candidate will be expected to participate in appropriate departmental and divisional educational activities. A commitment to academic scholarship in the areas of education, quality improvement, knowledge translation, innovation, and/or clinical and translational research is also required. Interested candidates should submit:

- An up-to-date curriculum vitae

- A cover letter with a brief description of academic and clinical experience relevant to this Job Posting

- The names and addresses of at least three referees

- A statement describing any contributions made or planned in relation to advancing equity, diversity and inclusion or inclusive excellence in teaching, research, or service within higher education, community-based or other profession settings (2page maximum)

Please note letters of reference are not required and will not be reviewed at the application stage; letters of recommendation from referees may be requested at later stages of the search process. Please apply online to Job Opening 61132 via the McMaster Academic Careers website (<https://hr.mcmaster.ca/careers/current-opportunities/>) directing your application to:

Lorrie Reurink, Manager, Human Resources and Faculty Recruitment All interested and qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. To comply with the Government of Canada's reporting requirements, the University is obliged to gather information about applicants' status as either Permanent Residents of Canada or Canadian citizens. Applicants need not identify their country of origin or current citizenship; however, all applications must include one of the following statements: "Yes, I am a citizen or permanent resident of Canada" or

"No, I am not a citizen or permanent resident of Canada" Priority will also be given to candidates who can meet the estimated start date for this position, which is December 1, 2024.

McMaster University is committed to employment equity and welcomes applications from all qualified persons. Diversity, Equity and Inclusion McMaster University is located on the traditional territories of the Haudenosaunee and Mississauga Nations and within the lands protected by the "Dish With One Spoon" wampum agreement.

The diversity of our workforce is at the core of our innovation and creativity and strengthens our research and teaching excellence. In keeping with its Statement on Building an Inclusive Community with a Shared Purpose, McMaster University strives to embody the values of respect, collaboration, and diversity, and has a strong commitment to employment equity.

The University seeks qualified candidates who share our commitment to equity and inclusion, who will contribute to the diversification of ideas and perspectives, and especially welcomes applications from indigenous (First Nations, Metis, or Inuit) peoples, members of racialized communities, persons with disabilities, women, and persons who identify as 2SLGBTQ+. As part of McMaster's commitment, all applicants are invited to complete a confidential Applicant Diversity Survey through the online application submission process. The Survey questionnaire requests voluntary self-identification in relation to equity-seeking groups that have historically faced and continue to face barriers in employment. Please refer to the Applicant Diversity Survey - Statement of Collection for additional information.
