

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

One-Year Term Faculty Appointment

Arts and Cultural Management â€“ Indigenous Education, Research and Engagement

Faculty of Fine Arts and Communications

MacEwan University inspires students through a powerful combination of academic excellence and personal learning experiences. Located in culturally enriched, downtown Edmonton, our comprehensive undergraduate university offers over 65 programs to 19,000 full- and part-time students. With a dedication to teaching excellence informed by scholarly research and creative activity, MacEwan provides an exceptional collaborative and supportive learning environment with a commitment to environmental sustainability and opportunities for community engagement. In support of faculty professional development, unique and enhanced services are provided through the MacEwan Office of Teaching and Learning.

The Opportunity

The Department of Arts and Cultural Management (AACM) in the Faculty of Fine Arts and Communications, in partnership with kihÃ¢w waciston Indigenous Centre, invites applications for a one-year term faculty appointment, commencing July 1, 2021, subject to final budgetary approval.

MacEwan is seeking a candidate with lived Indigenous experiences and grounded in Indigenous ways of knowing, being, and doing. In addition to teaching courses in arts and cultural management, the successful candidate will provide consultation and participate in the development of Indigenous-focused curriculum to align with institutional priorities and foster community engagement. The successful candidate will work closely with kihÃ¢w waciston Indigenous Centre and have good relationships with Indigenous communities. The position involves collaborating with the Director, Indigenous Initiatives, and kihÃ¢w waciston to plan and organize faculty educational opportunities and develop culturally sensitive programming, evaluations, and events.

As MacEwan Universityâ€™s Indigenous Centre, kihÃ¢w waciston offers personal, academic, financial and cultural support for students and is open to everyone in the MacEwan community.

Arts and Cultural Management focuses on preparing individuals for careers working with a wide variety of non-profit and for-profit arts and cultural organizations. In addition to their academic studies, students have the opportunity to develop skills through experiential learning, including work-integrated learning placements, projects with organizations in the field, community-engaged learning and international exchanges. One of Canada's first arts management programs, MacEwan's Arts and Cultural Management program attracts students from across the country in both its classroom and online cohorts.

Qualifications

Candidates will hold a minimum of a master's degree in arts management or a related discipline. A combination of education and lived experience may be considered. Demonstrated knowledge of First Nations, MÃ©tis, and Inuit communities, including their diverse backgrounds and culture, socio-economic issues, and educational needs, is strongly preferred. All applicants will demonstrate ethical engagement and collaboration with Indigenous communities. Applicants should submit a cover letter and a curriculum vitae, clearly showing a highly developed knowledge and understanding of Indigenous cultures and contemporary issues, with a proven ability to engage with Indigenous communities; a teaching dossier (including recent teaching evaluations); a statement of research interests; samples of scholarly or creative work; along with the names and contact information of three professional referees.

Questions about this opportunity may be addressed to Dr. Leslie Vermeer â€“ Interim Chair, Arts and Cultural Management, at vermeerl@macewan.ca.

This position is included under the Faculty Association collective agreement.

Salary: $66,788 to $108,110 per annum
