

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

Indigenous Relations Consultant

At SGI, we are focused on an exciting future involving growth, change and transformation. We are seeking a dynamic, energetic, and passionate Indigenous Relations Consultant to join our Corporate Auto Fund team in Regina OR Saskatoon; other locations in Saskatchewan may be considered.

In early 2020, SGI became one of the first signatories of the Saskatchewan Chamber of Commerce's Indigenous Engagement Charter, outlining our commitment to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) Calls to Action. As SGI advances its commitments to Indigenous communities and peoples, a new Consultant position has been created to support the development and implementation of the Indigenous partnership strategy for all Auto Fund functions (excluding Claims) to enhance and contribute to customer and partner experience, traffic safety promotion, and efficient operations. The position will play a critical role supporting Human Resources in the development and implementation of Indigenous projects and initiatives as it relates to building SGI's workforce and advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion at SGI.

Reporting to the Director, Indigenous Relations you will have an active role in SGI's response to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission report, contribute to the strategic alignment of the Indigenous Engagement Charter, and supports the Crown Indigenous Engagement Committee priorities.

Here's the impact you'll make and what we'll accomplish together:

- Build and maintain effective relationships with Auto Fund Indigenous partners and stakeholders to increase operational effectiveness and alignment to strategic direction. Work collaboratively with Auto Fund departments to strengthen Indigenous partner relationships, resolve issues, and provide recommendations to assist the Auto Fund in achieving its corporate objectives.
- As an SGI brand representative, you will develop and maintain external partnerships with post-secondary institutions, community groups, and networks to promote SGI as an employer of choice.
- Supports SGI in its efforts to develop a diverse and inclusive workforce by providing advice and support on training and learning opportunities, HR policy/program changes, and recruitment and retention strategies.

- Acts as a member of the Indigenous Engagement Steering Committee and lead the Indigenous Employee Advisory Committee.
- Coordinates, plans, leads, and participates in consultations with internal and external Indigenous stakeholders.
- Identifies and proposes strategies and actions to encourage leaders to adopt practices that promote openness and acceptance to advance Indigenous Peoples.
- Assists the Director, Indigenous Relations in researching and gathering information on prevalent Indigenous issues and supporting the setup and execution of consultations and initiatives with Indigenous partners and communities.
- Prepares, organizes, and attends partner training, seminars, and conferences, including developing and/or delivering presentations.

Here's what we're looking for:

Candidates must bring the education and experience to succeed in this unique opportunity. We are looking for candidates who have a four-year degree in a relevant field of study such as Indigenous Studies, Business, Communications or Community Development. Candidates should have at least five years' experience in Indigenous community engagement, stakeholder relations and/or program delivery. Strong understanding of First Nations and Metis issues with the ability to provide cultural interpretation and direction to protocols, traditions, values, beliefs, and cultural and legal distinctions. For this position, we want to highlight that First Nations, Inuit or Metis ancestry is regarded as directly relevant to the skills and knowledge for excellence in the position. Preference will be given to qualified Indigenous candidates who self-identify.

Why SGI

Because SGI is a great place to work. We value integrity, caring and innovation. We have an intentional culture that promotes trust and participation in a way that encourages employees to bring their hearts and minds to their work. Part of the SGI experience that our employees value most lies within the community comprised of their coworkers. The employee community isn't the only reason our people stay at SGI; we also offer a wide range of benefits and invest in career development to meet the needs of our employees. We embrace diversity, recognizing and celebrating our differences and our similarities. Our careers are as diverse as our employees.
