

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Link's Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

Western's vision is to be a destination of choice for the world's brightest minds seeking the best learning experience at a leading Canadian research university. Combining more than 1,400 faculty, 2500 administrative staff, and 32,500 FTE students (including more than 6,000 graduate students), Western has established itself as a globally recognized destination for academic excellence and leadership development achieved through learning and research. Through 11 Faculties and Schools, and three affiliated University Colleges, Western's vibrant centre of learning offers its undergraduate students more than 400 specializations, majors, and minors, as well as innovative modular degree structures allowing them to combine numerous disciplines. In graduate education, Western offers 53 Doctoral and 83 Master's programs. For more information about Western, visit www.westernu.ca.

Western now invites applications and nominations for the position of Chief Communications Officer (CCO)

Reporting to the President & Vice-Chancellor, and a key member of the University's senior leadership team, the Chief Communications Officer is accountable for providing campus-wide vision and leadership to support and advance Western's reputation and strategic institutional objectives. Working closely with the President, Vice-Presidents, Board of Governors, and other senior academic and administrative leaders, the CCO will provide leadership and strategic direction for the University's communications, issues management and media relations, and marketing and branding initiatives, ensuring alignment with Western's institution-wide strategic plan.

This critical appointment for Western calls for a visionary, strategic, collaborative and imaginative leader—someone who is energized by the opportunity to deliver on the mandate of the Communications portfolio, in support of strengthening and protecting Western's brand and its reputation for excellence in teaching, research, and scholarship, both nationally and globally. Managing a large staff and operating in a sophisticated and decentralized environment, the new CCO will possess significant leadership and management experience and will have a track record of success in leading a dynamic communications portfolio in a complex multi-stakeholder institution.

Candidate must also possess an undergraduate degree in a relevant discipline.

Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups / visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons with any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process by contacting our search consultant (see below). In accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, all qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and Permanent Residents will be given priority.
