

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

Ryerson University is a distinctly urban university with a focus on innovation and entrepreneurship. It is guided by a bold Academic Plan, an ambitious research agenda, and a Master Plan to revitalize the campus and surrounding neighbourhood. The special mission of Ryerson University is the advancement of applied knowledge and research to address societal need, and the provision of programs of study that provide a balance between theory and application and that prepare students for careers in professional and quasi-professional fields. It is the most applied-to university in Ontario relative to available spaces and its reputation with business and community leaders continues to rise. It is clearly a university on the move.

The Vice Provost, Faculty Affairs (VPFA) provides overall leadership and direction in the planning, development and management of policies, strategic programs and services with respect to academic staff (represented by the Ryerson Faculty Association and CUPE 3904 Units 1, 2 and 3). As part of the University's senior academic leadership, the VPFA provides oversight on all aspects of employment relations for faculty and instructors: strategic recruitment and complement management, risk management related to academic human resource issues; faculty development and academic leadership support; labour relations and strategic collective bargaining, and all relevant policies and procedures governing the appointment, compensation, promotion, transfer and removal of all faculty and instructors and academic administrators. The Vice Provost, Faculty Affairs works closely with the Deans and other Vice Provosts to enhance the academic mission of Ryerson University through programs and activities that support and guide academic staff in their relationship with students and the University Community. The VPFA may act on behalf of the Provost and Vice President Academic in their absence.

The ideal candidate has a depth of experience with faculty development initiatives and academic governance, labour relations and collective bargaining processes, and human resources planning. Candidates must hold a PhD or other terminal degree and be appointable at the rank of full professor. The VPFA's portfolio is wide and encompasses five major areas of responsibility, and candidates should have knowledge or familiarity with these areas which are: strategic leadership, academic recruitment and employment, academic staff development, academic labour relations, and office leadership and management. The leadership style and attributes which will benefit the successful candidate include being a strong communicator, collaborative and collegial, a strong advocate of equity, diversity and inclusion and an engaging problem solver, who is a respectful, and a good listener. The ideal candidate embodies what Ryerson is known for: collegiality, innovation and entrepreneurship, leadership, nimbleness and responsiveness, and equity, diversity and inclusion.

Ryerson University welcomes those who would contribute to the further diversification of its staff, its faculty and its scholarship including, but not limited to, women, visible minorities, Indigenous people, persons with disabilities, and persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity. Please note that all qualified candidates are encouraged to apply but applications from Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.
