Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

About AHMA:

Located on the Skwxwu7mesh (Squamish) Nation Territory in West Vancouver, BC, the Aboriginal Housing Management Association (AHMA) exists to make a difference in urban, rural and Northern housing. We oversee the administration of operating agreements between housing providers and Aboriginal housing organizations, keeping everyone's best interest in mind and developing and maintaining relationships of trust. Every employee on our team is integral to ensuring our success and the success of the Housing Providers we serve.

We thank all applicants, however, only those candidates who clearly indicate in their application how they meet the qualifications for this position will be considered. Please note that a criminal record and credit check may be performed as part of the final selection process.

Overview:

AHMA provides leadership, technical and program support services to our housing partners. The key to the success of our members is their ability to govern effectively, build capacity and undertake operations that promote and sustain safe, secure, affordable housing and related services in healthy communities.

The Health Policy Analyst contributes to the success of organizations serving Indigenous populations throughout BC by integrating community health education and program initiatives that link to resources in the health system. The position works to overcome systemic challenges, promote responsiveness to community needs within the system, and equip communities to care for themselves.

Who We're Looking For:

Education & Experience

- Post-secondary education in Public Policy, Public Administration, or a related discipline.

- Minimum of 2 years of relevant Policy or Program Development experience.

- Experience working within an Indigenous community.

- Strong understanding of Indigenous health systems and issues.

Or an equivalent combination of education, training, and experience acceptable to the employer.

Critical Success Factor:

The core of our business is serving the Aboriginal community; therefore, a critical success factor for anyone joining the AHMA team is to have an in-depth understanding of Aboriginal people and Aboriginal culture, preferably with strong British Columbia connections.

Team members are expected to have gained this understanding through lived experiences, whether it is from being of Indigenous ancestry or working closely with Aboriginal communities. Preference will be given to applicants of Aboriginal ancestry as per Section 41 of the BC Human Rights Code (self-identify).
