

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

Your role

CBC has an amazing opportunity for you to join our Current Affairs team in Vancouver.

If you are an energetic, disciplined, creative and innovative individual who thrives on building new things; if you are passionate about storytelling and sharing your content across multiple platforms; if you are deeply connected to the diverse neighbourhoods, people, business and culture that make Vancouver tick; if you embrace the potential of social media, digital and above all chasing good stories, then this could be the perfect opportunity for you!

Experience

Three years experience which is directly related to editorial chase or technical operations.

Education Requirements

University degree or equivalent.

Essential Skills

We are looking for a candidate with the following:

Thorough passion, knowledge, and understanding of the Vancouver and British Columbia market and its diversity of communities and content.

Community connections in Black, Indigenous, People of Colour, Disabled and other under represented groups in Metro Vancouver.

Demonstrated ability to develop meaningful stories and develop contacts.

Solid journalistic skills and on air presentation.

In-depth knowledge of local and national news.

Excellent production skills including operation of sound board and critical listening during live programming.

Ability to handle a variety of functions quickly and efficiently, and meet deadlines.

Ability to support the team with workflow and technology and be the champion of quality and innovation.

Innovative, flexible and calm under pressure.

Takes direction well, works cooperatively and also a self-starter.

Excellent communication and interpersonal skills.

Ability to work in a tight knit team.

Embraces new technologies and keen to expand the program in social media streams and online with aural and visual content.

Comfortable interacting and presenting material live on-air.

Innovative, with proven ability to use sound creatively.

Open to new ideas and approaches.

Strong organizational skills.

Thrives in a culture of continuous improvement and provides daily data to help inform decision making.

Understanding that you are working for a journalistic organization, which requires flexibility in shifts including early mornings, evening and weekend work.
