

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

In addition, the experience and passion this person brings to the role will create an environment where learning solutions empower people and impact business results. The candidate will be proficient in presentation and facilitation skills that optimize the transfer of knowledge to adult learners.

Main areas of Responsibility:

1) Act as Business Partner by building and sustaining valued partnerships:

Leverage effective relationships with key business partners in marketing, sales, and medical to identify gaps and desired learning outcomes, that inform the delivery of appropriate training resources to the sales force.

Strategically consult and collaborate to advise how learning solutions will drive business outcomes

Leverage resources to enhance value to business partners

Work collaboratively with other members of the Learning and Development and sales management teams.

2) Training:

Provide initial and ongoing training of the sales force on foundational skills and knowledge

Collaborate with sales leaders, to support disease state knowledge needs and development.

Conduct field visits with field sales to provide coaching and assess training needs

3) Learning Solutions:

Use Adult Learning, Blended Learning and Modern Learning Principles to:

Perform needs and gap assessments and make recommendations for appropriate learning interventions

Design, develop, and implement sales training to build clinical confidence and product knowledge

Evaluate and consistently update learning programs and content

Create annual brand learning plans to support learning activities throughout the year

Facilitate training programs for the sales force

Develop sales training materials for clinical confidence and product training

4) Business Ownership and Accountability

Demonstrate knowledge of disease state, product portfolio, and therapeutic options

Demonstrate knowledge of channels and services/solutions

Maintain up-to-date knowledge of local selling environment, marketplace trends, and affiliate/business unit objectives

Establish and ensure consistent use of processes and tools to manage projects.

Develop content for launch readiness in compliance with local label and business needs

Basic Requirements:

Bachelor's Degree

Minimum of 3 years specialty sales experience, preferably in Autoimmune

Experience and passion for customer-centric selling approach / philosophy

Excellent facilitation & communication skills, both written and verbal
