

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

Metroland is looking for enthusiastic and curious freelance Indigenous reporters with a passion for storytelling and interest in community journalism.

Cover community news related to First Nations, Metis and Urban Indigenous peoples on or near the First Nations of Wahta, Moose Deer Point, Shawanaga, Wasauksing, Magnetawan, Henvey Inlet, Nipissing, Dokis, Rama and Beausoleil on Christian, Beckwith and Hope Islands.

Your reporting and researching skills will result in engaging content for print, web and social media, with a focus on Indigenous Peoples and communities. Coverage could include profiles of individuals and their accomplishments; stories on health, social, economic and infrastructure issues facing local communities; and information pieces that will serve to educate our readers.

Are you a motivated self-starter with insatiable curiosity and an appetite for information Are you eager to learn and share your knowledge with others Can you bring together information and ideas to produce straightforward yet compelling text and create eye-catching photos Do you have a talent for telling stories in written form, and an eye for the stories that need to be told Share your knowledge of your community, its accomplishments and inform Indigenous and non-Indigenous readers alike.

The freelance opportunities and reporting are funded by the Government of Canada through its Local Journalism Initiative.

With newspapers including the Alliston Herald, Barrie Advance, Bradford and West Gwillimbury Topic, Collingwood Connection, Innisfil Journal, Midland/Penetanguishene Mirror, Orillia Today, Stayner/Wasaga Sun, Parry Sound North Star, Bracebridge Examiner, Gravehurst Banner, Huntsville Forester, Almaguin News, Metroland is the trusted source for local news and information. Metroland Media is owned by Torstar. Metroland's team of award-winning journalists produce 70 weekly and six daily newspapers as well as 25-plus websites.

Our Commitment to Diversity
