

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Link's Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Contact us to find out more about how to become a Site Sponsor.

Corporate Headquarters:
Toll Free Phone: (866) 225-9067
Toll Free Fax: (877) 825-7564
L9 P23 R4074 HWY 596 - Box 109
Keewatin, ON P0X 1C0

Job Board Posting

Careers.Indigenous.Link

Date Printed: 2024/05/02

Vice-President, Exhibitions, Curation And Partnerships

Job ID	B6-1F-8E-14-03-70
Web Address	https://careers.indigenous.link/viewjob?jobname=B6-1F-8E-14-03-70
Company	Canadian Museum For Human Rights
Location	Winnipeg, Manitoba
Date Posted	From: 2020-01-21	To: 2020-02-08
Job	Type: Full-time	Category: Office
Languages	English

Description

The Canadian Museum for Human Rights (CMHR) is the first museum in the world solely dedicated to the evolution, celebration and future of human rights. It is the first national museum in Canada to be built outside the National Capital Region. Located in the heart of Canada in Winnipeg, Manitoba, the CMHR rises from the Prairie earth at The Forks, which has been a meeting place for over six thousand years. The CMHR delivers an immersive, interactive and memorable experience for visitors of every background, age and ability. Each visitor has access to a fully reinvented museum experience that reflects a design approach that sets new Canadian and world standards for inclusion and universal accessibility.

We are seeking talented individuals who are motivated to share their passion and commitment to join our team. Together, we aim to enhance the public's understanding of human rights, to promote respect for others, and to encourage reflection and dialogue.

Purpose of Position

Reporting to the President and Chief Executive Officer, the Vice-President, Exhibitions, Curation and Partnerships is a key member of the CMHR Executive Team, a leader responsible for setting policy and developing and executing strategy in accordance with the goals and objectives established in collaboration with the Executive Team, the President and CEO and the Board of Trustees. The areas of oversight include: research and curation, collections, exhibitions, government relations, and various stakeholder groups and communities. The Vice-President, Exhibitions, Curation and Partnerships will also liaise with staff from all other Museum departments and will consult, collaborate and partner with stakeholders groups. The Vice-President, Exhibitions, Curation and Partnerships shares responsibility with the Executive Team for the Museum's overall performance. The incumbent provides leadership to a team of directors and other key managers, and builds strategic partnerships and relationships with the community, other museums, public and private institutions, and other like-minded organizations.

Key Responsibilities

Corporate Direction and Strategic Planning

- Together with the President and CEO and Executive team, implements and monitors the organization's long-term and strategic plans, annual corporate plans, and operational and business plans.

- Provides advice to the President and CEO in the development and implementation of corporate policies and programs that relate to research and curation, collections, exhibitions and government relations.

- Plays a lead role in evolving the Museum's content and exhibitions and positioning and marketing the Museum locally, nationally, internationally and with various levels of government. Includes strategic oversight of curatorial content and permanent, temporary and travelling exhibitions and collections.

Strategic Partnerships and Community

- Builds and nurtures partnerships with key stakeholders and government officials.

- Represents the Museum on select inter-museum committees and task forces and consults with select stakeholders, including government officials, to seek solutions in the areas of research and curation, collections and exhibitions, and for the cooperative exchange of information related to these areas.

- Maintains a high level of knowledge of current trends at a national and international level in the areas of research and curation, collections and exhibitions.

- Acts as a point of escalation for sensitive matters regarding external stakeholders and government relations in respective areas of responsibility.

- Acts as an ambassador and advocates for the Museum with various organizations and groups; represents the CMHR at meetings and gives speeches and presentations on behalf of the Museum.

Museum Operations

- Directs the development and implementation of policies and programs that relate to research and curation, collections, exhibitions and government relations.

- Creates and implements a long-term vision for the Museum's exhibition program that utilizes a collaborative and integrated approach and that aligns with the goals in the strategic plan.

- Directs activities related to research, curation, collections and exhibitions in accordance with policies, goals and objectives established by the President and CEO and the Board of Trustees.

- Responsible for the evolution, progression, maintenance, renewal and reimagination of the Museum's permanent exhibitions, as well as the development and execution of modular, scalable and multi-use exhibitions designed to travel.

- Responsible for the Museum's collections, including archives, library and collections, and all related activities including acquisition, registration and cataloging, storage, conservation and preservation, and loans management.

- Ensures that high-quality research and content are showcased through the Museum's exhibitions and ensures alignment with the Museum's strategic goals and priorities. Initiates, reviews and/or evaluates proposals for new research projects or major shifts in existing research. Approves or rejects proposals, and provides leadership and guidance on improvement and/or implementation.

â€¢ Engages key stakeholders and forges strategic partnerships.

â€¢ Leverages new and existing networks and partnerships to disseminate the Museumâ€™s work.

â€¢ Examines and pursues co-production opportunities with external partners.

â€¢ Builds other key external relationships such as with influencers and champions.

â€¢ Implements a CMHR annual human rights summit.

â€¢ Oversees the coordination of government relations: briefings, maintaining relationships with government representatives, delegations, etc.

â€¢ Responsible for developing processes and systems to improve the quality of service to respective client groups, both reactively and proactively.

Financial Performance and Growth

â€¢ Manages and approves the annual budget for the Museumâ€™s research and curation, collections, exhibitions and government relations, including any external stakeholder engagement initiatives.

â€¢ Identifies, obtains and manages material and financial resources and plans; administers and exercises significant financial authority.

Leadership

â€¢ Provides leadership to a team of directors and other key managers; ensures outcomes and targets are achieved for respective areas of responsibility.

â€¢ Provides management, leadership and training to staff and contractors.

â€¢ Supervises staff in accordance with company policies, procedures, collective agreement and workplace safety regulations.

â€¢ Coordinates with Human Resources for appropriate staffing levels. Conducts interviews; makes employee selection and assists in developing the schedule for on-boarding planning.

â€¢ Coaches and provides career development advice to staff. Supervises and manages the staffâ€™s overall performance.

â€¢ Responsible for staff scheduling which would include: employee training, employee vacations, overtime approval, etc.

â€¢ Establishes employee goals and conducts employee performance reviews. This would include approval on annual increases, salary adjustments upon promotion, authority to exercise discipline, etc.

Skills and Qualifications â€” Required

â€¢ Post-secondary education at the graduate level (PhD or combination of MA and experience equivalent to a PhD) in an area relevant to the study of human rights (e.g., history, political science, law, cultural studies, etc.), plus a minimum of 10 years related experience or an equivalent combination of education and experience.

â€¢ Executive-level management experience within a complex and multidisciplinary institution.

â€¢ Considerable breadth of knowledge in multiple relevant areas, and specialized technical knowledge and expertise in one or more areas: human rights, public relations, research and curation, collections, exhibitions and/or government relations.

â€¢ Demonstrated success developing and implementing strategic and operational plans, policies and initiatives.

â€¢ Proven track record managing business units, budgets and activities related to research and curation, collections, exhibitions and/or government relations.

â€¢ Demonstrated ability to successfully negotiate and develop partnerships.

â€¢ Experience managing highly specialized human, financial and material resources.

Skills and Qualifications â€” Desired

â€¢ A PhD degree in an appropriate discipline with an emphasis on human rights.

â€¢ Ability to communicate in both official languages, orally and in writing, is an asset.

â€¢ Experience in a museum or a heritage/cultural institution.

â€¢ Established reputation as a human rights expert, as evidenced through work in publishing, lecturing, teaching and program development, scholarly and popular publications on the topic of human rights.

â€¢ Experience negotiating and developing human rights partnerships at the national and international levels.

â€¢ Working knowledge of IGOs, NGOs and other human rights institutions.

Attributes

â€¢ Problem-solving â€” Advanced knowledge of problem-solving and decision-making techniques, and the ability to generate solutions to problems and decide on a course of action.

â€¢ Adaptability â€” Advanced ability to effectively manage oneâ€™s own behaviour and positively influence the actions of others during times of change, stress or uncertainty.

â€¢ Integrity and trust â€” Advanced ability to operate with a high degree of honesty and openness, such that respect and trust is earned by co-workers and customers.

â€¢ Managing vision and purpose â€” Communicates an inspiring, optimistic vision of the future in such a way that others are motivated to share in the vision.

â€¢ Planning and organizing â€” Effectively manages resources (people, funding, material, support) and eliminates roadblocks to achieve goals.

â€¢ Developing direct reports â€” Works with employees to understand and set career goals, and provides related development opportunities and support.

â€¢ Inspirational leader, motivating others â€” Encourages others to do their best through empowerment, reward and recognition, delegation, and the creation of a positive work environment and strong teams.

â€¢ Impact and influence â€” Able to assume leadership, even under challenging or difficult situations, and provide direction and impact the behaviour of others in a positive way.

â€¢ Excellent communication and interpersonal skills.

â€¢ Demonstrated ability to skillfully work with controversial subject matter and present conflicting or divergent points of view fairly.

â€¢ Confidentiality and discretion â€” Through the course of their duties, the incumbent will be privy to highly confidential matters and must display the utmost discretion and professionalism.

Official Language Proficiency:

â€¢ Bilingual non-imperative

Working Conditions and Physical Demands

• Work is in an office environment.

• Frequent requirement to work beyond normal working hours, including weekends and evenings, with short notice.

• Some travel will be required.

Conditions of Employment

• Security Screening Level " Secret Status

• Child Abuse Registry Check

How to Apply

Interested applicants should submit a cover letter and résumé through CMHR's Careers page at <https://humanrights.ca/about/careers> by February 7, 2020. The cover letter must provide concrete examples that illustrate how they meet the education and experience factors listed in the Qualifications " Required and Desired (if applicable). Résumés will be used as a secondary source to validate the education and experience described in the cover letter.

The Canadian Museum for Human Rights is committed to developing inclusive, barrier-free recruitment processes and work environment. Please advise the HR representative if accommodation measures must be taken to enable you to apply and be assessed in a fair and equitable manner. All applicants will receive a confirmation of receipt of their application. We thank all applicants for their interest, however, only those selected for an interview will be contacted.

Intent / Result of process: An eligibility list of qualified candidates may be created as a result of this process. The list would have a retention schedule of six months.

The CMHR is committed to fostering a positive workplace culture with a skilled and diverse workforce that reflects the Canadians we serve. The principles of diversity, inclusion and accessibility are core to our values and employment equity is a factor that is applied in our competition processes. Employment equity, as addressed in federal Canadian law by the Employment Equity Act, requires federal jurisdiction employers to engage in positive employment practices in an effort to ensure that four designated groups (women, people with disabilities, Indigenous people, and visible minorities) are represented in the employer's workforce to a degree that is akin to their representation in the broader Canadian workforce/workforce segment.

The Museum's employment practices are developed and informed by the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's Calls to Action.

You are strongly encouraged to identify in your application if you belong to one or more of the designated employment equity groups.

If contacted about this job posting, please advise us if you require any accommodations regarding the interview process.