

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

Work at CBC/Radio-Canada

At CBC/Radio-Canada, we create content that informs, entertains and connects Canadians on multiple platforms. Our successes and accomplishments are driven by embodying and upholding values, which include creativity, integrity, inclusiveness and relevance.

Do you think you have the ability and drive to keep up with this exciting, ever-changing industry? Whether it be in front of the camera, on air, online or behind the scenes, you would be joining a team that thrives on making connections and telling stories that are important to Canadians.

Who you are:

You are curious. You devour the news and understand what makes great journalism. You are excited about the possibilities that digital offers. You love the craft of writing and feel privileged to tell people's stories. Your true love is the written word, but you are keen to try radio and TV. You are tapped into communities in New Brunswick and want to give them a voice. You doggedly pursue stories and feel comfortable working on your own but know that news is collaborative. You want to work as part of a team. You are not happy with the bare minimum of effort. You are technically adept and willing to learn new tools to do your job. You bring a distinctive life experience, perspective or expertise to the team that will enrich the newsroom and our stories. You have a deep understanding and appreciation of diverse perspectives, opinion and experience.

If this is you, we'd love for you to apply for our online reporter position.

The position can be based in either Fredericton or Saint John.

Key tasks:

Pitch and produce original stories that can work as text, radio and video treatments.

Respond quickly to breaking news.

Package stories with the best photos and most engaging video clips, plus links and other media.

Write stories based on gathered interviews or live-streamed events.

Write compelling headlines that work on the website and mobile devices.

Take photos with a DSLR.

Edit stories and curate the online news lineup.

Post stories on social media accounts.

Experience

Three years of newsroom experience

Credentials

Must possess a valid driver's license as well as a driving record that meets the minimum requirements of CBC/Radio-Canada's insurance company.

Education Requirements

University degree or equivalent.

Essential Skills

We are looking for a candidate with the following:

Strong writing skills.

Proven ability to work collaboratively, especially with team members in remote locations.

Knowledge of web, mobile and social media tools and industry trends.

Willingness to work a variety of shifts, including early starts, late finishes and weekends.

Candidates may be subject to skills and knowledge testing.
