

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

It may start with inspiration, but it takes so much more to get to the finish line: experience, expertise, and advanced technical capabilities. That's what the National Research Council provides. Working with our partners, we're delivering on a national platform for innovation. We conduct research, support small and medium-sized businesses to help them scale up and compete, and we connect Canadian innovators to leading Research and Development capabilities. We also enable cross-sector partnership and collaboration here at home.

Are you a great communicator? Are you looking for a work environment where you can use your creative skills to the fullest? Do you have a proven track record of working with clients on complex files, providing strategic communications support and working under pressure? The National Research Council's Strategic Communications team is looking for talented and dynamic Communications Advisors!

You'll contribute to fascinating and engaging projects in an environment where teamwork, initiative, and creativity are nurtured.

Under the direction of the Manager, Strategic Communications, you will work as part of a team focused on providing communications support to your assigned clients. You will plan, coordinate, and implement a wide range of communications projects, products, services, and activities. You will also work closely with the different communications teams and networks with other communications colleagues across the National Research Council on best practices, approaches, and problem-solving.

Experience

• Recent experience in planning and managing communications projects in a fast-paced, client-oriented environment

• Recent and significant* experience in planning and drafting a wide array of high-quality communications content/material including web content, presentations, speaking points, fact sheets, backgrounders, speeches, and news releases

• Recent and significant* experience in planning and/or organizing internal, stakeholder or media events

*Recent and significant experience means experience acquired through the performance of a broad range of related activities. Such experience is normally acquired through full-time employment over a minimum period of two years (consecutive months) within the last three years.
