

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

Based in British Columbia, Skeena Fisheries Commission (SFC) is the Skeena Watershed aboriginal organization that focuses on fisheries management, science, and conservation. SFC is now the host of the Business Development Team (BDT), a team of fisheries and aquaculture advisors that work with Indigenous communities and Commercial Fishing Enterprises in all aspects of business development and access to resources from the Pacific Integrated Commercial Fishing Initiative (PICFI).

On their behalf we are seeking experts to report to the BDT Team Lead in the following roles:

Aquaculture Business Development Advisor

You will provide business and technical support services in the aquaculture sector to Indigenous communities in British Columbia under the PICFI.

Ideally, you have a degree in Fisheries and Aquaculture, Sciences or Business with an extensive background in both the technical and business aspects of aquaculture. You are familiar with government business support programs and have knowledge of Indigenous governance, government policy processes, and understand the issues and challenges in this sector.

You have well-honed interpersonal and communication skills, coupled with a high level of integrity, confidentiality, and accountability. You possess solid negotiation, conflict resolution, and people management skills and have a significant competency in the areas of analysis, research and problem-solving.

Capacity Development and Training Advisor

You will act as business advisor and advocate to commercial fishing enterprises as they provide community-based employment and training opportunities.

A post-secondary degree in Community Development, Economic Development, Adult Education or Human Resources and several years' experience in the sector are required. You have project management and consulting experience and a demonstrated knowledge and interest in Indigenous issues, Indigenous governance, and community development. You possess a technical understanding of fisheries and fisheries training and an ability to learn industry training needs and communicate them effectively.

Self-motivated, you possess a high level of integrity, confidentiality, and accountability. You are skilled in meeting facilitation and can professionally represent the organization with government officials, affiliated organizations, and the public.

Both positions require frequent travel within British Columbia and will work remotely from a home office.

How to Apply

If you are interested either of these challenging opportunities, please forward your resume and a cover letter explaining your qualifications for the role to Gerald Walsh Associates Inc. at apply@geraldwalsh.com.
