

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

Native Child and Family Services of Toronto is an Aboriginal, community controlled multi-service agency. Our mission is to provide support, ensure safety and enhance the quality of life for Aboriginal families, children, and youth within the greater Toronto area. Our agency works within a holistic framework, which builds on individual and family strengths, and engages clients as partners in identifying issues and their solutions.

Classification: Regular Full-Time

Location: 30 College St. Toronto

NCFST is committed to staffing a workforce representative of the Aboriginal population we serve. We encourage First Nations, Metis and Inuit applicants to apply and to please self-identify in their cover letter.

Position Summary

Under the direction of the Supervisor, Healing Team, the Concurrent Disorder Service Coordinator works with community members to develop holistic, culturally- based supports to recovery and wellness.

Main Responsibilities

The Concurrent Disorder Service Coordinator is responsible for:

- Providing respectful, culturally relevant services to community members consistent with the mission, vision, and values of Native Child and Family Services of Toronto.
- Administering holistic assessments using culturally-based and mainstream tools to help identify spiritual, emotional, cognitive, and physical strengths and healing paths.
- Identifying goals and objectives in conjunction with community members and identifying appropriate internal and external resources to meet individual and family needs.
- Working with service users and family members to gather the essential stories needed to develop support plans.
- Collaborating with other community service agencies to provide comprehensive services.
- Accompanying community members to appointments as needed.
- Providing informal individual counselling and group-based activities.
- Supporting community members in times of crisis.
- Providing after care support (post treatment) and ensuring the quality of services through the monitoring of all service providers.
- Completing all required documentation including manual records and statistical reporting.
- Ensuring that all data is accurately entered into the electronic case management system.
- Responding to telephone and walk-in requests for the Clinical Services Duty Response.

What we are looking for

- Strong understanding and practice of Indigenous approaches to healing, including land-based practices and cultural knowledge.
- Connection to FNIM communities.
- Bachelor's or Degree in Social Work or post-secondary education in related field, such as addictions OR a combination of education and experience working with Indigenous Peoples.
- Two years relevant experience

- Pass a vulnerable sector police records check
- Knowledge and awareness of the diverse urban Indigenous population
- Knowledge of child development, family systems and dynamics, human growth and behaviour, domestic violence, child abuse or mental health and wellness
- Understanding of client-centred and First Nation, Metis and Inuit community-based work
- Team skills to work collaboratively with others
- Effective counselling and crisis support skills
- Excellent communication skills, both oral and written
- Time management, organizational and coordination skills
- Understanding of Native Child and Family Services of Toronto Mission and values
- Understanding of workplace Health and Safety practices and understanding of an employee's responsibility under current legislation
- Ability to work effectively with all levels of staff, to maintain effective communication and working relationships, demonstrating strong interpersonal skills, tact, sensitivity and build strong internal relationships
- NCFST requires all employees, contractors, students, and volunteers to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19, absent of a valid medical exemption or other reasonable consideration pursuant to the Human Rights Code of Ontario.
