Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

The Nuclear Waste Management Organization (NWMO) is responsible for the safe, long-term management of used nuclear fuel in Canada. The approach it is implementing, known as Adaptive Phased Management (APM), involves developing a centralized underground repository, supported by a robust social and technical research program in collaboration with Canadian universities, consultants and international waste management organizations.

Join our growing team of scientists, engineers and other professionals to work collaboratively with Canadians in implementing our management approach in a manner that safeguards people and respects the environment, now and in the future.

Site Engagement Associate, Indigenous (Northwestern Ontario)

(2 Year Fixed Term â€“ 3 positions available)

We are in search of a talented professional with a strong interest and extensive experience in Indigenous relations and public engagement to join a team of social and technical scientists to support this process.

The successful candidate would be called up to conduct engagement programs with Indigenous organizations and communities, represent the NWMO in public dialogue and events and be accountable for supporting on-going relationships within the assigned region.

You will apply extensive experience in community work along with your knowledge of Indigenous studies, social sciences and community development and be â€œhands onâ€• in the daily implementation of our work. You will have extensive experience in project and control management, budget development and community relations and will have managed complex projects. You will provide advice and support to the team in the development and success of the Indigenous engagement program.

The successful candidate must be willing to learn, to take initiative, to be able to communicate clearly, plan and organize well, to trouble-shoot and problem solve. Other personal skills include the ability to work effectively in a team environment and independently, and a â€œcan doâ€• attitude with a track record of leadership and success in varied endeavors.

Experience

â€¢ Over 6 years and up to and including 8 years is considered necessary to gain this experience.
â€¢ Knowledge of community development, public engagement and public policy and understanding of Indigenous organizational structure and culture in Canada and Indigenous consultation.
â€¢ Public engagement and indigenous relations experience on projects involving multiple interests.
â€¢ Have proven organizational skills, be a self-starter who can work independently and in a team environment that is dedicated to excellence.
â€¢ Demonstrated background in working with the general public and Indigenous people in a variety of settings with increasing level of complexity in relationships.
â€¢ Have demonstrated financial and project management skills in planning and executing project activities.
â€¢ Have an ability to be flexible, and meet new challenges as arise, in a demanding and dynamic environment.
â€¢ Preference will be given to applicants with an understanding of Indigenous communities and culture in Ontario.
â€¢ Preference will be given to applicants who reside in Northwestern Ontario or are willing to relocate.
You must be eligible to work in Canada and must be able to meet security clearance requirements.

Education Requirements

4 year university education in Indigenous studies, environmental studies, public policy development/administration, and/or sociology or by having the equivalent education.

Work Environment

This position will require frequent travel within the assigned region and must locate in the area.

Other

We offer a competitive base salary and comprehensive health care benefits package.

Contract Term: asap to December 31, 2023.

The NWMO is committed to contribute to reconciliation in all its work by co-creating a shared future built on rights, equity and well-being.
