

Indigenous.Link

Canada's fastest growing Indigenous career portal, Careers.Indigenous.Link is pleased to introduce a new approach to job searching for Indigenous Job Seekers of Canada. Careers.Indigenous.Link brings simplicity, value, and functionality to the world of Canadian online job boards.

Through our partnership with Indigenous.Links Diversity Recruitment Program, we post jobs for Canada's largest corporations and government departments. With our vertical job search engine technology, Indigenous Job Seekers can search thousands of Indigenous-specific jobs in just about every industry, city, province and postal code.

Careers.Indigenous.Link offers the hottest job listings from some of the nation's top employers, and we will continue to add services and enhance functionality ensuring a more effective job search. For example, during a search, job seekers have the ability to roll over any job listing and read a brief description of the position to determine if the job is exactly what they're searching for. This practical feature allows job seekers to only research jobs relevant to their search. By including elements like this, Careers.Indigenous.Link can help reduce the time it takes to find and apply for the best, available jobs.

The team behind Indigenous.Link is dedicated to connecting Indigenous Peoples of Canada with great jobs along with the most time and cost-effective, career-advancing resources. It is our mission to develop and maintain a website where people can go to work!

Description

Dalhousie University is Atlantic Canada's leading research-intensive university and a driver of the region's intellectual, social and economic development. Located in the heart of Halifax, Nova Scotia, with an Agricultural Campus in Truro/Bible Hill, Dalhousie is a truly national and international university, with more than half of our 19,000 students coming from outside of the province. Our 6,000 faculty and staff foster a vibrant, purpose-driven community, that celebrated 200 years of academic excellence in 2018.

As the first university-based common law school in the nation, the Schulich School of Law offers a unique and enlightened approach to legal education. Diverse curriculum, leading specializations, and internationally recognized faculty provide exceptional opportunities in all facets of legal education. Reporting to the Dean, the Assistant Dean, Student Services and Engagement is an integral part of the senior management team of the Law School and plays an indispensable role in all matters related to the quality of the student experience.

Key Responsibilities:

- Provide leadership and vision in the development, delivery, and review of initiatives and services aimed at ensuring that the Schulich School of Law is a national leader in offering a high-quality student experience that is respectful, inclusive and serves our diverse student body.

- Contribute to the Law School's and the University's success by leading the development of the Law School's strategic and operational plans and by ensuring that the Law School achieves its student services and engagement goals.

- Research and collaborate with other similar professionals in Canadian and international law schools and universities to ensure that the Schulich School of Law is leading in the implementation of excellence in the student services delivery.

- Lead the Law School's initiatives and programs designed to enhance student academic success, wellness, engagement and retention, and the overall student experience across Schulich Law's academic programs.

Advocate for students in all aspects of academic and personal wellness, providing advice, direction, support, counselling and decisions on individual and collective student problems and concerns.

- Promote and lead the School's mandate on equity, diversity, and inclusion in all aspects of the student experience.

Qualifications:

Considerable related experience, including as part of a senior management team in the post-secondary sector, with a graduate degree (or equivalent combination of training and experience) is required. A Juris Doctor (JD), or Master's degree in a field relevant to student services delivery (i.e. counselling, adult education) is preferred. Knowledge of Canadian law schools and the Canadian legal profession is required. Demonstrated leadership in program design and evaluation, policy development, strategic planning, and coaching/counselling is essential. The successful candidate will be tactful and diplomatic, with an ability to maintain composure and retain a positive and professional attitude under pressure and in difficult situations. Understanding of issues, challenges and opportunities relating to the equity, diversity, and inclusion of law school students from underrepresented groups is vital to this role. Superior written and verbal communication, public speaking, and presentation skills are required.

The successful candidate is expected to demonstrate proficiency in Dalhousie's core and leadership competencies (<https://www.dal.ca/dept/leaders.html>), in particular:

- Self-Awareness & Professionalism
- Respect & Inclusion
- Adaptability
- Knowledge & Thinking Skills
- Communication
